

District Councils' Network Annual Conference 2026

Thursday 19th to Friday 20th March

De Vere Beaumont Estate, Old Windsor

Welcome from the DCN Chair

Dear Colleague,

Welcome to DCN Annual Conference! The 2026 event will be our largest conference so far. The fact that so many people are coming together to share insight, expertise and solutions is testament to the power of our network.

This is my first conference as DCN Chair. I look forward to meeting as many of you as I can – from all our political parties and whether councillor or officer – to get an even stronger appreciation of your views and the areas on which you'd most like DCN's support.

We have much to discuss at this year's event. Reorganisation and devolution will dominate much of our conversation. This is a time of huge challenge to us all. But I know our chances of getting the best outcomes for our communities are enhanced by working together.

We've built a conference programme we believe offers insight on the issues and opportunities that our member councils face. I very much hope that the event serves your needs. Please take the time to respond to our delegate surveys following the conference so we can understand how best our 2027 event can support you. I look forward to you, as a valued attendee, playing a full role in the conference. Please join the discussion, in plenary sessions, break-out sessions, breaks and the bar!

Thank you for everything you do in your local government position and for all that you do for the sector through DCN. Thanks also to our strategic partners and exhibitors who add so much to this event, and without whose support this event would not be possible.

I very much hope you enjoy this year's event.

Best wishes,

Cllr Richard Wright
Chair, District Councils' Network

About the District Councils' Network

District Councils' Network (DCN) is a cross-party network of 169 district and unitary councils. We are a special interest group of the Local Government Association, providing a single voice for all district services. DCN member councils deliver a wide range of local government services to over 21 million people – 37% of England's population. They cover 59% of the country by area. DCN councils are home to 39% of England's businesses and 32% of national Gross Domestic Product.

DCN councils play a unique role in shaping local places to make them more prosperous. They drive local economic growth and the resurgence of local pride that goes with it. They hold vital keys to improving health and wellbeing and reducing pressure on the NHS. They have an unparalleled ability to support the local residents who need it most and help prevent the social problems of tomorrow.

Breakout Sessions

Day 1: Thursday 19th March, 3.05pm to 3.55pm

Session 1: Tackling the affordable housing crisis: the human experience of homelessness (in partnership with Vistry Group)

Speakers: Francesca Albanese - Executive Director of Policy & Social Change, Crisis; Caroline Green - Chief Executive, Oxford City Council; Cllr Stephen Robinson - Leader, Chelmsford City Council

Chair: Andrew Taylor - Group Planning and Sustainability Director, Vistry Group

Session summary: Many councils and communities across England are feeling the impact of acute homelessness and temporary accommodation pressures. At this session, we will hear from Crisis about the human impact of homelessness drawing on their extensive expertise and campaigning. Senior council leaders will share the solutions they are adopting locally to tackle the problem and focus more on prevention. This session will feature Q&A and will be a great opportunity to discuss fresh ideas about more holistic approaches to homelessness prevention, especially as we head into the new landscape of unitary councils.

Room: Main Conference Hall (Hanover Suite)

Session 2: How to strengthen your cyber resilience while leading through Local Government Reorganisation (in partnership with Cyber Centre of Excellence)

Speakers: Irene Coyle – Chief Operating Officer, OSP Cyber Academy

Session summary: The rapid development of new technology and global geopolitical change make the need for protection against cyber threats higher than ever. At the same time, councils and other public services are embarking on fundamental structural changes. Join this session with the Cyber Centre of Excellence for an interactive discussion about how to manage cyber risk during the implementation of Local Government Reorganisation and beyond, and how to use it as an opportunity to reset how councils think about cyber security. We will look beyond the technology itself and explore how leaders can create a strong culture of cyber security in their own organisations and with wider local partners.

Room: Windsor 3

Session 3: Facilitating systemwide collaboration on LGR (in partnership with Newtrality)

Speakers: Mike Dearing – Partner, Newtrality; Pip Peel – Partner, Newtrality

Session summary: As councils anticipate ministerial decisions on the footprints for new unitary councils, we turn our attention to the challenges of making LGR happen and what lessons might be learned from the private sector, where mergers and demergers are a “way of life” for some industries. This session will be led by Mike Dearing and Pip Peel, Partners from local government consultancy, Newtrality. Mike has cut his teeth leading local government change and developing public sector partnership programmes. Pip has managed some of the most high-profile mergers and de-mergers in the Financial Services and Retail sectors. Mike and Pip will be joined by a panel of senior practitioners for an informative and lively exchange of ideas and experiences that will provoke your own thinking about the challenges and opportunities ahead for councils.

Room: Buckingham 4

Session 4: Communicating with your communities through change

Speakers: Cllr Lisa Spivey - Leader of Gloucestershire County Council; Cllr Jeremy Newmark - Leader of Hertsmere Borough Council; John Richardson - Chief Executive of Harborough District Council

Chairs: Charlotte Platten - Director of Local Government Engagement and Communications, Cratus Group Sarah McKee - Managing Director of Corporate Communications, Cratus Group

Session summary: Join the Cratus team and local government colleagues for a discussion on the challenges and opportunities arising from Local Government Reorganisation (LGR), with a focus on communicating effectively with communities. Too often, community engagement is pushed to the bottom of the agenda or seen as simply too difficult when planning for and communicating about LGR. Yet our experience shows the opposite can be true. When done well, clear communication and meaningful engagement can build trust, reduce uncertainty and create better outcomes for everyone involved. This session will explore practical approaches, share lessons learned and open a conversation about how councils can place communities at the heart of change.

Room: Beaumont Room

Breakout Sessions

Day 2: Friday 20th March, 11.10am to 11.55am

Session 1: LGR – what can we learn from the Surrey journey so far?

Speakers: Cllr Anne-Marie Barker – Leader, Woking Borough Council; Cllr Hannah Dalton – Leader, Epsom and Ewell Borough Council; Richard Carr – Managing Director, Woking Borough Council.

Chair: Mari Roberts-Wood – Chief Executive, Reigate and Banstead Borough Council

Session summary: Surrey is at the front of the queue for Local Government Reorganisation with shadow elections for the new East and West Surrey Councils taking place in May. Join us to hear from our panel of Surrey district council leaders and chief executives about, how they're preparing to implement LGR successfully and what other areas can learn from Surrey's experience. We'll look at how district councils can maximise their influence through the implementation period, what the early stages of LGR transition are really like and how we can lead our organisations to make the most of the opportunity.

Room: Main Conference Hall (Hanover Suite)

Session 2: How to succeed as a political leader of a unitary council

Speakers: Cllr Jonathan Brook – Leader, Westmorland and Furness Council; Cllr Richard Clewer – Opposition Leader and former Leader, Wiltshire Council; Cllr Vince Maple – Leader, Medway Council

Chair: Cllr Susan Brown – Leader, Oxford City Council

Session summary: As LGR decisions and implementation approaches, many district councillors will be contemplating opportunities to represent their communities in the new unitary councils that emerge. At this session, we will hear from an excellent panel of experienced unitary council leaders about what it takes to lead a unitary council. We'll explore the differences between political leadership in district and unitary councils, how to make the transition, and the challenges and opportunities that come with being a leader or senior councillor in a unitary council.

Room: Windsor 2

Closed Chief Executive Session

Friday 20th March, 8.50am to 9.40am

LGR and beyond: talent talks and walks! (in partnership with Penna)

Note: This session is open to council chief executives and senior officers only

Speakers: Julie Towers – Director, Penna; Sarah Murphy-Brookman - Corporate Director, Buckinghamshire Council; Dr Catherine Howe – Chief Executive, Dorset Council; Max Wide – Associate Director and Transformation Advisor, The Leadership Centre

Chair: Trevor Holden – DCN Lead National Chief Executive and Managing Director of Broadland and South Norfolk Councils

Session summary: As LGR approaches, many senior officers are considering how the new local government landscape will affect career and development opportunities for them and their leadership teams. This session will offer practical insights and ideas about the talent challenges and opportunities arising from LGR. Julie Towers will outline the data from Penna's recent review of talent data and career progression from district to unitary. Sarah Murphy-Brookman and Catherine Howe will share their recent experiences of senior leadership in a unitary council and their top tips for aspiring unitary leaders. Max Wide will bring insights from the Leadership Centre about LGR development needs.

Room: Main Conference Hall (Hanover Suite)

Closed Political Group Sessions

Friday 20th March, 8.50am to 9.40am

Cratus Group is a UK-based strategic communications and public affairs consultancy that helps organisations navigate the political, regulatory, and community environments that shape major projects and public policy. Founded in 2009, we work with clients across sectors including the built environment, infrastructure, energy, technology, housing, and local government. Our core aim is to help organisations manage reputation, influence decision-making, and deliver successful campaigns at both local and national levels.

We provide an integrated service spanning corporate communications, government relations, public affairs, planning communications, and community engagement. We support clients throughout the full lifecycle of projects – from shaping policy and stakeholder strategies to managing consultation processes and delivering campaigns that build public and political support.

A key strength is our expertise in local government and planning. Our team includes former political leaders, journalists, civil servants, and industry specialists who understand how decisions are made within councils and national government. This experience enables us to advise clients on political risk, stakeholder engagement, and reputation management.

Through strategic advice, research, and integrated communications campaigns, we help organisations build trust with communities, influence policy outcomes, and deliver projects that contribute to long-term economic and social development across the UK.

Local Partnerships is an in-house public sector delivery partner jointly owned by the LGA, HM Treasury and Welsh Government. We work solely for central government departments, the Welsh Government, councils and combined authorities.

Local Partnerships delivers value and efficacy for the public purse. As a key interface between local and central government, we provide expert advice and practical resources alongside project and programme delivery support, enabling public services to thrive.

Whether supporting and accelerating the delivery of major infrastructure, increasing sustainability through waste efficiency and renewable energy propositions through to wider place-making initiatives, we help transform services across the public sector ecosystem.

We recognise the unique set of responsibilities district councils hold as they deliver frontline services that communities rely on every day. Our support is designed to strengthen capacity and unlock delivery, whether that's navigating complex planning and regeneration challenges, improving contract management, accelerating housebuilding or undertaking large scale transformation programmes.

We bring technical expertise and additional capacity to help district councils deliver tangible improvements for residents. Working in partnership, we help districts meet their ambitions and deliver high quality and resilient services in the face of increasing financial and operational pressures.

newtrality Newtrality is a public sector transformation consultancy working alongside councils and public sector organisations to design, deliver and embed meaningful, lasting change. We support organisations navigating complexity, from financial pressure and rising demand to structural reform, reorganisation and devolution, bringing calm, clarity and capability to complex programmes.

Our work spans service and operating model design, major programme delivery, local government reorganisation and leadership development. We take a structured but deeply human approach, combining insight, co-design and evidence-based decision making with hands-on delivery support. We work closely with organisations, building capability that remains long after programmes close.

Newtrality is passionate about inclusive, values-led leadership. Through our partnership on the Different programme, we help build confident, capable and diverse leaders who better reflect the communities they serve and are equipped to lead change in challenging political and organisational environments.

With unparalleled experience in public sector transformation, our consultants understand the realities of public service and focus relentlessly on outcomes that matter for people, places and communities. Clients value our collaborative style, practical insight and commitment to partnership working, ensuring change is achievable, sustainable and grounded in local context and lived experience.

Norse Group – Improving People’s Lives

Norse Group is very different to most companies. Wholly owned by Norfolk County Council, it is the UK’s leading local authority trading company, with a forward order book of £2 billion. Its ownership means that, throughout the organisation, there is a deep-rooted commitment to public service values, and profits are returned to the public purse.

Norse’s annual turnover of around £350 million and workforce of more than 9,000 people make it a major force in the delivery of outsourced services. The group comprises three primary companies:

- Norse Commercial Services - environmental, highways, transport, housing repairs and FM services
- Norse Consulting - architecture, design and building consultancy
- Norsecare - care homes in Norfolk

Norse began trading in 1988 in response to compulsory competitive tendering, initially as an arms-length company formed by the county council. In 2003 a sea change came with the formation of a joint venture with Great Yarmouth Borough Council – the first of many such partnerships.

The company re-branded as Norse and continued to grow. Further council joint ventures were formed: there are now fifteen across the UK. The partnership model, pioneered by Norse, is now well-established as an attractive alternative to insourcing and traditional outsourcing.

Vistry Group

Vistry Group: We deliver thousands of homes annually for the open market and affordable housing sectors (2025 - 15,700). Working closely with Governmental bodies, housing associations and local authorities to meet housing need, as well as selling homes directly to customers through Bovis, Countryside and Linden Homes.

We are the UK's leading mixed-tenure developer, bringing together modern and efficient delivery methods, creating sustainable communities and places people love.

Our placemaking approach, not only builds high quality homes, but also thinks critically about the social and digital infrastructure, transport and green spaces needed to nurture a vibrant, connected, and healthy community.

All of us need a decent home – to be healthy and to thrive. Currently though, this basic human need isn't being met for many people.

Vistry is supporting Crisis as our charity partner 2026. Crisis work side by side with thousands of people each year as they find ways out of homelessness, providing practical support to help people access benefits, healthcare services and employment opportunities.

Crisis' main aim is to relieve the huge pressure of homelessness, by helping people find safe and affordable homes as quickly as possible. Campaigning on the political changes needed to end homelessness for good and conducting research to understand and highlight the scale, causes and consequences of homelessness.

Hilary Cottam: Book Signing

We are delighted that Hilary Cottam OBE, DCN conference speaker, author and social activist, will be signing copies of her new book, The Work We Need: a 21st Century Reimagining, in the Hanover Lounge (near the main conference hall) from 3pm to 3.30pm on Thursday 19th March.

Hilary Cottam is an internationally acclaimed social activist whose work in Britain and with communities around the world has focused on collaborative and affordable solutions to some of the greatest social challenges of our time. Her first book Radical Help was hailed as 'mind-shifting' by David Brooks in the New York Times and has been translated internationally. Awarded an OBE in 2019 for services to the welfare state, Hilary has been recognised by Fast Company in the US for her pioneering creativity and by the World Economic Forum as a Young Global Leader. Hilary's TED talk has had close to a million views.

In her new book, The Work We Need, Hilary Cottam turns to one of the most pressing and fascinating issues of our time: the future of work:

“Five years ago, I set out on a journey seeking the insights of everyday experts: those of us who work. I spent time too with business leaders, academic experts and policy makers. I asked a simple question, how could we re-design our working lives?”

“What I have heard in response are rich stories about possible futures. I have heard imaginings which are widely shared and largely hidden. I have learnt that we are exhausted with tips for life-work balance, conversations about whether we should return to the office, or whether the magical promises made about AI will be good or bad for workers. We are yearning instead for a very much bigger collective re-design of the values and assumptions that underpin work.”

For decades, work has been debated and discussed as a narrow economic category. Instead, Hilary Cottam identifies work as a cultural force and one at the heart of good lives, strong communities and nations that have a sense of a shared destiny. Crucially, in these dramatic times, she shows how we can shape this force to meet technological change, our ecological crisis, and the challenges of the world's deep injustices. We can create a work revolution.

Ambitious but rooted in the ideas of everyday experts, Hilary Cottam has crossed the UK and the USA. She has spent time in communities considered (by outsiders) as 'left behind' and in places at the centre of financial and technological power. Drawing on an inspiring range of sources including historians, trade unionists, business leaders, philosophers and most originally, on hours of her imaginative workshops with workers, she shows us how work could be re-imagined and in a way that benefits everyone
